

HISTORIC WIN: JUDGE ORDERS QANTAS TO REINSTATE WORKERS

Today, Justice Lee announced the landmark decision ordering Qantas to reinstate outsourced workers.

This is the largest ever reinstatement order made in Australia, and is a testament to how hard you have fought since the outsourcing announcement was made over a year ago.

Congrats to every single one of you who came to actions, wrote to politicians, shared your stories and stood together. This is not only a victory for Qantas workers: it is proof to every company in Australia that workers will not stand for this kind of treatment. It is the ultimate proof that we are stronger together.

WHAT DOES THIS MEAN?

- The reinstatement order will be subject to the outcome of Qantas's appeal in February
- If you don't want to be reinstated, we'll be in touch regarding other options
- Hearings on compensation and penalties for Qantas will take place at a later date

WHAT CAN YOU DO?

- If you're not a member of the TWU, join today to stay updated as we fight the appeal
- Click here to send us a photo of yourself and why you want to go back to your job - over the coming weeks before the appeal, it's important to keep up our fight
- Stay tuned to support or attend further actions as we prepare for the appeal
