

BEVCHAIN UDPATE

JUNE 2023

BEVCHAIN REJECTS YOUR CLAIMS AND COMES AFTER YOUR CONDITIONS

Your TWU bargaining committee met with Bevchain for the second bargaining meeting on 1st - 2nd June. Bevchain responded to your claims before tabling its wish list.

TWU CLAIM

- √ NEA expiry 30 June 2026
- Commitment to support the call for transport reform
- Finalising local matters
- ? Campaign delegates leave
- 70:30 site-based ratio
- X Casual conversion
- Yard meetings for labour-hire
- ★ Women's Advocate program
- Enhanced paid parental leave
- X Paid family and domestic violence leave
- X Cultural and religious leave
- Mental health training
- Enhanced redundancy entitlements

BEVCHAIN CLAIM

Remove custom and practice

Introduce flexible rostering

Increased span of hours

Widen the scope for Linfox to introduce new technology

Bevchain has reserved its right to determine its position on pay and superannuation.

Locking in the expiry date and the transport reform commitments are two significant outcomes. Members understand how important these issues are in winning our industry-wide fight. It's disappointing that Bevchain rejected most of your claims but is seeking more flexibility around rosters, span of hours and reducing your conditions.

- Stay tuned The TWU will hold yard meetings to get member feedback on the Bevchain claims.
- 29th-30th of June Your committee will meet with Bevchain again.
